

County Councillors Diary

This is a brief update of the on going issues within the Llangollen Rural Ward.

I would like to start by saying what a good year it has been, and I hope the success continues this year. We have seen the coming together of our three villages working for the good of their communities.

What a wonderful Christmas spirit, with the switch on of the Christmas tree lights, one at Trevor basin, and one at Fron community centre. Both were very well attended. I would like to express my personal thanks to all those who made it happen, and look forward to doing it all again next year.

I arranged a site meeting with groundwork's organisation, and members of the Aqueduct Association and Cakes & Company. To look at ways of enhancing the community with flowers, shrubs, walks and picnic areas. Some good ideas came from the meeting, which is now being worked on.

I have had a site meeting with Mark Owen from Plas Madoc Housing Office as we were looking at ways to improve off street parking, and to arrange another mini tidy up day.

Steve Edwards and the Cadburys community support team have offered to give us another day, like they did last year on the old station yard. Date and project to be arranged.

On the A5 trunk road at Froncysyllte, I am pleased to say that all outstanding work has now been completed. A new section of fencing around Garth school has also been completed. A safety gate was requested at Garth playground by a local resident. I am pleased to say the gate has been installed.

It is election year for County Council and Community Council on May 1st. I shall be putting myself forward for both councils. I will be asking for your support, to enable me to continue working for the good of all the people in the Llangollen Rural Ward. I would like to say thank you for all your past support. Any problems don't hesitate to contact me

South African War Memorial At Froncysyllte

By Emrys Roberts

Throughout our country in cities, towns, villages and even hamlets, we discover War Memorials erected to honour men and women who have sacrificed their lives in the service of our country.

Prior to World War 1 it was not general practice to erect such memorials to the memory of the ordinary soldier or sailor. In our great cathedrals and parish churches we may see inscribed tablets, effigies and other memorials to the memory of individual members of high ranking families of the district, who were usually of the officer class in the armed forces or to individual formations of the Armed Services.

However, following the huge loss of life sustained in World War 1, it became common practice to erect such memorials to honour all members of the services who perished and therefore we find monuments even in the smallest communities, recording the names of the fallen, mostly those of young people of a community whose early and tragic deaths were a personal loss to a family and also a waste of future potential assets to a locality.

The names of those who gave their lives in World War 1 are more often than not inscribed on the original memorials erected following the 1914-18 war or on tablets which are positioned adjacent to the monument. We have such an arrangement in Froncysyllte, whereby the original memorial unveiled in 1921 is inscribed also with the names of the fallen of the 1939-45 War. Uniquely in Froncysyllte we have a memorial which pre-dates World War 1 and is dedicated to two soldiers who gave their lives in the South African War 1900-1902. I refer to it being rather unique as I am not aware of the existence in this locality of other similar memorials of the pre-1914 era, dedicated to other ranks of the armed forces and which are sited in a public place rather than in a place of worship. The only other Anglo-Boer War Memorials known to exist in this area are to be found in St. Giles's Parish Church, Wrexham and St. Oswald's Parish Church, Oswestry.

Saturday the 29th October 1910 was a 'red letter' day in the history of Froncysyllte, when on the afternoon of that day hundreds of people gathered to pay their respects and witness the unveiling of the memorial fountain.

The first soldier named on the Memorial to make the supreme sacrifice was John Charles James who was born in 1875. He was the elder of the two sons of William and Jane James who at that time resided at Trevor View, Froncysyllte.

The other soldier whose name appears on this Memorial was William Williams son of Edward Williams, the lime burner at the Chirk Castle Lime & Stone Company's kilns and who lived at Canalside, Froncysyllte.

The Memorial fountain was erected by public subscription and taken over by the former Llangollen Rural District Council in December 1910. The original choice of location for the erection of the Memorial in the large retaining wall in the centre of the village was ideal considering the small volume of slow moving traffic which passed through Fron in the early 1900's. However, in the ensuing years, with the increased volume and speed of passing vehicles close to the Memorial it began to suffer some damage. Fortunately the Victorian Military Society which was undertaking a project of Anglo-Boer War Memorials throughout the country had its attention drawn to possible serious damage – probably beyond repair – in which the Memorial was placed. Through their efforts, together with assistance from the Local Councils and a generous donation from the Chirk Branch of the Royal British Legion the Memorial has been re-sited to a less exposed position on the lay-by on the A5 highway near St. David's Church.

At an impressive service held at St. David's Church and the War Memorial on Sunday the 20th October 1996 the Vicar of Chirk led the large assembled congregation in the re-dedication of the Memorial. Taking part in the service were the Standard Bearers representing several local Branches of the Royal British Legion.

Stranger seen in Llangollen Rural

By way of introduction. If you have seen a stranger wandering around the ward in the last few months wearing a fluorescent yellow coat or top it will probably be me. Some of you will already have met me during the course of my travels as Police Community Support Officer for the area whilst I would like to invite you all to feel free to approach me when I am out and about with any queries or just for a chat.

Before I started work in the area people kept telling me what a pleasant place it was. I took this with a pinch of salt but any doubts seen to have been misplaced and I have even considered the idea of a holiday afloat.

I would like to thank everyone for the reception so far and look forward to the next few months of hopefully warmer weather as part of your neighbourhood policing team.

Regards

Christmas Painting Competition

A high number of entries were received for the children's Christmas tree decoration competition in December. What a talented bunch of youngsters we have!

Geraint Roberts had a difficult task picking the winner.

Joe Richardson won and was delighted to switch on the Christmas tree lights at Fron Community Centre. The brilliant turnout was quite a surprise and I'm sure this will become an annual event due to the good feedback we have received. Mulled wine and mince pies were served by Cakes and Company. Santa's grotto was visited by the children and over 60's receiving complimentary gifts.

On Wednesday 19th December, Professor Humo, magician entertained the children of after School Kids Club at their Christmas party.

Froncysyllte After School Kids Club held a Valentine's disco at Fron Community Centre on Wednesday 6th February.

The last week of term the children were busy making bird feeders in After School Club. A £100 cheque has been received from Llangollen Rural Council, this will go towards the many craft activities that are put on during After School Kids Club.

Cakes and Company will re-open on Saturday March 22nd for the season (from 12 noon – 4pm).

Bird List Fron

by Julie Williams

Blackbird, Blue tit, Bullfinch, Buzzard, Chaffing, Collared dove, Coal tit, Crow, Greenfinch, Goldfinch, Great tit, Hedgesparrow, Jackdaw, Long tailed tit, Mistlethrush, Magpie, Nuthatch, Pheasants, Pied wagtail, Robin, Siskin, G.S. woodpecker, Tawny owl, Wren.

Things happen when you least expect it, especially in nature. Where I park my car on the drive beneath some trees a Robin started landing on my wing mirror, every time I drove in. Slowly it gained more confidence. I would leave some food each time I got out of the car and the Robin got bolder, staying on the mirror when I opened the window or door. I was now keeping bird food in a container in the car and on new years day it started eating out of my hand. What a start to the New Year!

Now it has no fear and comes to the kitchen window to let us know it's about and eats out of my hand regularly. We thought we'd lose it once it found a mate but so far it's coming back every couple of days.

Chairman's Corner

Having been a member of the Council for many years, originally joining the Parish Council with meetings every month in the schools at Garth or Fron, and at the J C Edwards's Offices on the Main Road in Trevor, before our two Community Centres were built. I was very pleased then to be part of the Council that persuaded Wrexham RDC to provide us with our Community Centres.

The one thing that has given me the most pleasure was to persuade Council to take over Noddfa Cemetery and maintain it. I'm sure everyone in the area would agree how well kept it is now, and we also get very favourable comments from further afield.

Many other things have happened within our Communities, far too many to mention, but I hope that the pressure put on District Council and indeed the County Council by us has over the years improved our Villages. One significant change brought about by the Boundaries Commission was a change in our Boundary - something we were totally opposed to. We hope soon to be able to put pressure on Wrexham County Borough Council in order to reverse the decision and have the original boundary reinstated.

Having read the article on page two by Emrys Roberts about the South African War Memorial in Fron, I remember that, as a Council, we discussed moving the Memorial for many months. Charlie Mellish worked very hard then, to acquire funding and to persuade the authorities to enable it to be moved to its present position, which is much better.

The end of April will see the end of this Council with both Local Council & County Council elections due 1st May. As a Council we have received excellent feedback from Wrexham C.B.C and I would like to thank our County Councillor Pat Jeffares for his enthusiasm and total commitment to the communities of Trevor, Garth and Froncysyllte. If we are re-elected, we look forward to serving our Communities for another 5 years.

Finally I would like to thank Council for giving me the pleasure of being Chairman during the last twelve months.

Pontcysyllte Aqueduct World Heritage Nomination

The extensive World Heritage nomination documents and supporting evidence were completed on schedule and delivered to the Department of Culture, Media and Sport in London on 21st December. Feedback from the Civil Servant handling the nomination for the UK Government is that the documents are 'superb'. The documents went to the Minister, James Purnell for signature on 4th January and were then sent to UNESCO in Paris as the United Kingdom submission for 2008.

The nomination is being led by Wrexham Council, British Waterways and the Royal Commission on the Ancient and Historical Monuments for Wales and is being supported by Denbighshire County Council, Oswestry Borough Council, Shropshire County Council, Cadw, English Heritage, Countryside Council for Wales, Visit Wales, Tourism Partnership North Wales, UNESCO Cymru Wales and the Institution of Civil Engineers. Every Community Council along the 11-mile site has also given its support to the bid.

We now await confirmation that the nomination has completed the UNESCO technical check (i.e. that it is a complete nomination and meets UNESCO's operational guidelines). Also that it has made it into the 45 nominations that UNESCO sets as an annual limit. UNESCO has a system for prioritising nominations, with Member States with no or few World Heritage Sites given priority. The United Kingdom has 24 sites and so would not score highly in this process. However, the Pontcysyllte Aqueduct and Canal nomination is considered to be a 'gap' site, that is, there are relatively few industrial heritage sites of this type on the current World Heritage list. If we are successful in this initial phase, the nomination will then go through to full assessment by expert assessors appointed on behalf of UNESCO.

Easter Message

A radio panel programme, many, many years ago asked its members "Which historical figure would you wish to meet, and what question would you ask him or her." The Philosopher Professor Joad replied: "I would want to meet Jesus and ask him Did you really rise from the dead?"

If Jesus did not rise to life (or was not raised to life by God) then Christianity crumbles. (As St. Paul put it "If Christ is not raised from the dead, then we Christians are of all people to be most pitied"). But, if Jesus did rise to life (or was raised to life by God), then Christianity is true, endorsed by God, and all other religions are second-rate, and all questions raised by atheists and agnostics are thereby answered.

(Personally, I don't think Christianity would crumble if the resurrection were not true, because the message and ministry, the suffering and death of Jesus still mark him out as a man of God who is worth following and believing in more than any other religious, spiritual, or moral teacher. However, the resurrection of Christ – which I firmly believe happened in some way – vindicates Christ, as God thereby owns Jesus as his Son, and upholds all that he did and said and stood for.)

The resurrection of Christ Jesus, which Christians celebrate on Easter Sunday (and indeed every Sunday), is the 'Feast of feasts' for Christians. Traditionally Christians have believed in the physical resurrection of Christ. The gospels relate various resurrection appearances of Jesus, various resurrection experiences of Jesus. These are actually sensory experiences rather than physical experiences. Mary Magdalene heard his voice; the disciples saw him; Thomas touched him; the disciples ate and talked to him; two disciples recognised him in the way he broke bread with them in their home. Different disciples, different experiences, and different circumstances – all witnessing that Christ Jesus is alive and interacting with them. And so it is with Christians today: they will tell you of their different reasons why they believe and feel that Christ Jesus is living with them and within them, the living Lord. Easter is not history: it is a present reality for Christmas day by day. Find out more in any church this Easter Sunday. You will be very welcome.

Garth Community Primary School News

The School Council goes from strength to strength, enhancing its business initiatives and providing the opportunity for all pupils to have a say in the everyday life of the school. They are currently working on a project to build a very special "dream den" which will be used by the pupils during school hours and by the Owls After School Club and Diddy Ducks pre-school club. They also contribute to discussions about curriculum and extra curricular issues.

Pupils in Year 6 attended Dinas Bran for a bridging lesson in ICT.

Breakfast Club is very popular and we have purchased new resources to make the time more enjoyable. We hope that even more pupils will take the advantage of breakfasting in school as those who attend are benefiting from the well balanced healthy breakfast on offer.

We are currently working through the New Curriculum and the Foundation Stage documents. We are busy creating new Schemes of work and developing the organisational changes that we will have to make to be able to deliver the Foundation Stage and the new Key Stage 2 curriculum. We are pleased to say that we are up to date with the planned timetable for action. We have also completed the Basic Skills audit for this year and the report has been forwarded to the LEA

We are currently updating the report on the Healthy Schools initiative which will be presented to the appropriate assessor in September. This should lead us to an award again this year, our fifth. We are hoping to conduct an Appetite for Life evening for parents and pupils.

Many happy returns of the day Mrs Jones

Friends and family gathered together at the Cakes and Company Community Cafe in Froncysyllte on Saturday 2nd February to celebrate the 90th birthday of Mrs Gwennie Jones.

Entertainment was provided by the very talented lleisiau Clywedog singing Welsh folk songs. A birthday cake depicting Mrs Jones' hobbies of art, gardening, knitting and sewing was made by Dave and Janet Norman.

Finance

Again this year the Community Council has agreed to request a modest increase to the precept allowance (monies given by Wrexham CBC to enable the Council to conduct it's business) so that it can build on it's very limited reserves and enable it to contribute to or finance projects in the forthcoming year. An extra £1000 was also included to offset possible election expenses in May.

This year the Council financed 3 additional street lights, supported the installation of a water supply to Trevor Church, donated towards the upgrade of Froncysyllte Community Centre and earmarked funding in support of a similar upgrade to the Trevor and Garth Community Centre.

Christmas Festivities in Froncysyllte & Trevor

The Christmas tree lighting up night went extremely well for Fron and Trevor, there were many people at both events and a great time was had by all. Due to the very good feedback from people who attended the events it has been decided to hold similar events again this Christmas. The winner of the best Christmas tree decoration competition switched on the lights at Trevor at 4:30pm as the Garth school choir sang Christmas carols around the tree. At the Fron the vicar was there to help with the festivities.

Santa was in attendance at both trees giving out selection boxes and chocolates to young and old alike. On the Trevor side Santa sat on the disabled boat where donations were given towards the cost of running the boat, there were a few side stalls selling drinks and mince pies to raise money for local groups. On the Fron side he was at the community centre where tea, coffee and mince pies were available as well as a few small stalls selling Christmas novelties.

The Telford was the place to be in the evening where the community formed band "4 one Nite Only" were performing to a packed audience. There was plenty of cheering and shouting going on during the evening especially during the second half when they played all their Christmas music. The event raised over £400 including a cash match donation from Cadbury at Chirk. We have had some fantastic feed back from the evening, in fact it has been so positive that the band has decided to reform and hold another band night to raise some more money for the community. Next band night will be on 7th June 2008, there are several new band members in the new band and again we have some unusual instruments, watch out for the posters and get your tickets early as it is virtually guaranteed to be a sell out!!

Santa made a tour of Garth Trevor and Fron just before Christmas talking to many local children and finding out exactly what they wanted for Christmas, his tour was spread out over two evenings as he had such a large area to visit, many thanks to all of Santa's little helpers for assisting him on his journey. I do believe he enjoyed the evening so much that he gave all the local children all the presents they asked for, lets hope he comes around again this Christmas!!!

Very many thanks to all the people who helped make Christmas 2007 that little bit special for all the residents of Garth, Trevor and Fron, we have learnt a lot from these events and the next one can only be bigger and better.

Next fundraising event will be a Spring ball to be held at The Telford Inn 5th April 2008, there will be a buffet included in the ticket price of £10. NO casual wear allowed formal dress only, please support your community and attend this event.

We are doing well in our aim to raise money towards the Garth & Trevor Community centre renovation project but still need to raise more money, please support us, we are doing everything we can to raise the necessary money.
